Ode to Teurlings Catholic High School

There is a valid distinction between the School and Teurlings, even though the separate threads are closely interwoven.

The School is buildings, classrooms, athletic fields and people. Teurlings is mood, emotion, inspiration and personality. One is physical, and the other is spiritual. One is tangible, and the other intangible.

The School speaks of academic achievement, extracurricular activities, challenge, self-awareness, character, passion and vocation. Teurlings speaks of friendship, loyalty, servant-leadership, tradition, prayer, discipleship, and Eternal Life.

The School reminds us that its goal is to prepare us for life, and that our time on campus is temporary. Teurlings makes it clear that its primary purpose is to prepare us for Heaven, and that "Once a Rebel, always a Rebel!"

The School is respected, but Teurlings is loved. The School eventually prepares our diplomas and bids us farewell at graduation, but one can never leave Teurlings.

This year, Teurlings Catholic welcomed 211 freshmen into the class of 2018, along with several new student transfers from other high schools. Teurlings Catholic is not just a great “college prep” school, but a “life-prep” school. Keeping our mission in mind and heart, we gather each school day “To Channel His Spirit” for the glory of God. We are committed to providing academic excellence and spiritual nourishment as our Rebels become adults who will lead and serve in a Christ-centered community.

Teurlings Catholic is thriving with 735 total students this year, the highest enrollment in school history. The large number of students reflects a confidence in TCH throughout the community that we provide a great education and life experience for students who are willing to work hard. That group bears the Teurlings Catholic hallmark of a Christ-centered willingness to work with God’s children, helping them to grow and prepare to be productive, positive and caring citizens.

Teurlings Catholic High School is in existence today because of the time, effort and work of many people through the years. The school was originally envisioned by the colorful Monsignor William J. Teurlings, a pioneer cleric in the Diocese of Lafayette. It was one of his dreams to have a school to service the people of his parish, St. Genevieve. Shortly before his death, activity toward the creation of the school accelerated until the opening of the school and dedication in 1955.

Over the decades, the pastoral leadership of the school has been evident. Monsignor Charles Fortier was named pastor of St. Genevieve on October 1, 1954. Father Teurlings High School opened under his pastorate and he served as principal in 1963. During his administration the gymnasium was constructed. Monsignor Rudolph Arlanti was named pastor of St. Genevieve on June 15, 1965. His first job was to get Father Teurlings High School ready for the fall semester. The parents gave him their Saturdays to put in an extra water well, repaint the school, and clean up the grounds. Monsignor Alexander O. Sigur, Reverend Charles Marin, Reverend Jerome Frey, S.M., were all very active with religious education on the Teurlings campus. Reverend Floyd Calais eliminated the oxidation pond at Teurlings. He had city sewage installed at a bargain rate not to mention the new land reclaimed from the removal of the oxidation pond. Reverend Joseph Brennan was responsible for the ground breaking of the Chapel on the school campus which took place on May 7, 1984. In the late 1980's, Teurlings Catholic became an Inter-parochial school and Fr. Brennan became the first Chancellor. Fr. Jody Simoneaux followed as Chancellor. He was closely involved with the construction of new administrative offices, athletic weight room facility, and the new thirteen classroom wing. Reverend Marty Borcharding served as the third Chancellor and oversaw the construction of the Terri L. Baudier Athletic Facility. Our current Chancellor, Reverend Hampton Davis, is the visionary responsible for the completion of the Teurlings Catholic athletic stadium and the Guidance / Religious Formation Building.

Reverend Bede Becnel was the first principal of Teurlings Catholic. He was followed by Sister Angelle Bell, William Michot, Sister Julie McDougall, Sister Ann Caroline Stromer, Harry Greig, Louis Hanemann, George Laird, Bruce Baudier, and Michael Boyer.

The efforts of these religious and educational leaders have formed Teurlings Catholic over six decades. The traditions of the past have been carefully carried on the shoulders of those who came before. Fads, hairstyles, clothing, music, technology, cafeteria food, and academics have all changed from one generation to another. The one thing that has remained constant is the family-like and Christ-centered academic institution envisioned by Reverend Teurlings years ago.

Once a Rebel, always a Rebel!!!

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL OF ACADEMICS

Academic excellence. That is not just a “buzz phrase” at Teurlings Catholic High School, but a part of our tradition and heritage, found in our crest, in our history, in our present and in our future.

When I arrived on the TCH campus in 1989 as a history teacher, Teurlings Catholic had a goal: to provide a Catholic-centered college preparatory education. In the last 25 years, that goal has not changed, but the means to that end does look radically different today. In fact, if those of you who graduated in the 1950's, 1960's, 1970's, 1980's or even the 1990's popped into a classroom today, you might be surprised at what you see.

As I walked down the hallway (yes, enclosed hallway) of the liberal arts building today (yes, we have an entire building of 13 classrooms dedicated to the study of English, history, foreign languages, speech/debate, and fine arts) observing teachers and classrooms, I passed four English rooms where students were busy brainstorming, writing, peer editing and rewriting essays – all without ever touching a piece of paper, thanks to the use of laptops and notebook computers. At the end of the hour, all submitted the paper electronically, where it was checked via the web for plagiarism, grammar, spelling, etc. and sent to the teacher who will read and grade the paper electronically. Students will then receive the graded results, sent electronically to them via our school management software.

Across the hall in a geography classroom, the teacher was using a large wall-mounted interactive projection device to move around a map with his students, instantly linking on the screen with websites and resources to help those ninth graders learn about the countries being studied.

In a US History classroom, a class of 11th graders were participating in an active discussion about the causes of World War I. Nothing usual about that – except these 11th graders are earning college credit here on the TCH campus for their work through our Dual Enrollment program. Qualified 11th-12th graders can earn anywhere from 3-33 hours of college credit by taking a high school and college course concurrently on the campus in American History, World History, French, English, Human Anatomy, College Algebra or Trigonometry, Psychology, Sociology, Communications, and Fine Arts Survey – at a fraction of the cost of taking a course on the college campus.

Across the hall, seniors enrolled in Dual Enrollment World History were also involved in an active discussion, but instead of voicing their comments, they were busy typing them into an online discussion forum on their personal computer devices and responding via the same media. No longer does a “shy” or “unsure” student have to fear raising that hand to respond in front of everyone.

As I left the building and walked past what you old-timers would call the “Jr. High Building” (now devoted to religious studies since there are no more junior high students on campus) I saw a religion class presenting prayers each had written. Those prayers were not just read by the student, but were presented electronically with music and art.

As I walked a little further towards the original red brick campus, I passed the art room where the teacher was using a document camera to project a line drawing on the screen for the class to view, allowing each to comment and duplicate the work on their own.

I then came to a science room, where there are no hard-bound textbooks. Instead, students have access to an electronic book both at home on their personal computer and at school via the projector and Promethean board in the front of the room.

Two rooms over, students were working in small groups, going over electronic results of an experiment. The experiment had been done in the science lab at the other end of the campus, but the results were being tabbed back in the classroom and logged on the Promethean board in the front of the room for all to see.

A little further on, students in advanced math and calculus were using computers in the classroom for all their work, including solving problems – and getting an instant grade thanks to online software programs that not only provide the problems and grade the solutions, but that can provide remediation to students who need the extra help.

Back on the other end, in Mrs. Dona Dugas' room (some things really do not change), Biology II students were exploring DNA interactively, zooming in and out of diagrams, back to the electronic textbook, and zipping out to a website showing active DNA research, and back again to the diagrams and notes on the electronic board.

As I rounded by the office and came to the computer classroom and my final stop, I watched students in the publications class working on computers, designing pages for this year's Rebel Yell Yearbook, using graphics skills learned via both that class and introduction to business computer applications.

Admittedly, the face of the classroom has changed – but some things remain constant. There is still homework (it's just electronic). There are still tests (but some are online, some are on those electronic Scantron forms). Our students still take standardized tests (and continue to score well above state and national norms) and complain about the workload (seven tough college prep courses for most students these days). Teachers still shake their heads in bewilderment at some of the things students say and do in class. We still “write up” girls for shorts and skirts that are too short, boys for hair that is too long, and everyone for being tardy to class or talking during Mass.

And, yes, one other important thing has not changed – students at TCH excel in the classroom and in life – and those of us who teach Rebels wouldn't trade our job for any other out there!

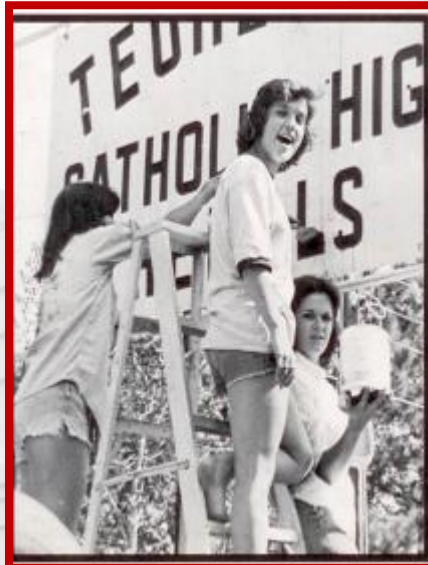

SCHOOL HISTORY

Msgr. William J. Teurlings, a pioneer cleric in the Diocese of Lafayette, envisioned a school to service the people of his parish, St. Genevieve. Msgr. Teurlings searched for property to build a high school. He found the land that he wanted but felt the price was too high. However, with advice from trusted friends, he decided to buy the twenty-five plus acreage for $25,000, and the land for Teurlings High School was acquired. Shortly before his death, activity toward the creation of the school accelerated, until the opening of the school and dedication in 1955.

During the years 1955-59, the school grew and expanded its facilities until it had a full four-year high school program. With much energy and work, the school was officially accredited by the State Department of Education in 1959. Over the years, the name of the school has undergone change, which reflects, to a large extent, the growing experience of the school itself. Originally, the school was called Father Teurlings High School. The school held this name until 1967, when the name was changed to Teurlings Central High School, as a result of negotiations between St. Genevieve Church and the surrounding church parishes, which the school serviced. At some point in the early 1970's however, the school adopted the simple title of Teurlings High School. This title held on only briefly until the principal at the time, Sr. Julie McDougall changed the name to Teurlings Catholic High School.

Sister Myra Banquer, Superintendent of Catholic Schools for the Diocese of Lafayette, announced the formation of a tri-parish corporation, which would assume ownership of Teurlings Catholic High School in 1991. St. Leo the Great and St. Elizabeth Seton church parishes joined St. Genevieve as members of the corporation. The plan included joining Sts. Leo-Seton Elementary School with St. Genevieve Elementary School as feeder schools creating a strong base of support for Catholic education on the northside and especially for the high school.

Bishop Edward O'Donnell created in 1999 a multi-parish ownership for Teurlings Catholic High School. In addition to the three current owner parishes and affiliated elementary schools, three new parishes and their respective elementary schools joined the system that was to be Teurlings Catholic. Those parishes and schools include: St. Peter and Carencro Catholic, Immaculate Heart of Mary parish and school, and St. Bernard parish and school.

The opening of St. Genevieve Middle School during the 2002-2003 school year brought an end to the long-standing configuration of Teurlings Catholic Junior/Senior High School. Beginning with the 2003-2004 school term, Teurlings Catholic became a traditional high school with grades 9th thru 12th.

In June 2006, two additional parishes were added to the multi-parish ownership of Teurlings Catholic High School. St. Patrick parish and Our Lady of the Assumption parish were accepted by Father Jody Simoneaux, Chancellor of Teurlings Catholic.

Teurlings Catholic High School is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and approved by the Louisiana State Department of Education. The school is affiliated with the National Catholic Educational Association, the National Association of Secondary School Principals, Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development and the Louisiana Association of Principals. Athletic teams participate under the auspices of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association.

Teurlings Catholic High School is intensely proud of its 4,500 alumni. One of the school's greatest assets is the achievement record of its many outstanding graduates. Many of the prominent leaders in the Lafayette area, as well as throughout the country, were among the many students nurtured through their crucial adolescent years at Teurlings Catholic High School.

I served as Principal at TCH from 1985-1986 through 1996-1997. Following a three-year stay at Mire Elementary, I then returned to TCH in 2000 as Head of the Physical Education Department as well as Head Cross Country and Track Coach. I was assigned to the Assistant Principal position in the 2008-2009 school year. Areas of my responsibilities include overseeing day-to-day operation of the school and discipline.

Some of the "additions/improvements" done in the last number of years include:

Drug screens – Every student is tested at least once every school year. Representatives from SECON come to school and administer the screens. Reports are sent to the administration to be handled as per school drug policy.

School Resource Officer "SRO" Officer Marty Deroussel with the City of Lafayette Police department is on campus during the school day as well as various after-school activities. "Officer Marty" continues to be a tremendous help throughout the school day. He also assists with any "fender benders" students may have, handles morning and afternoon traffic, clarifies legal questions from kids during break and lunch, assists with the safety drills, and coordinates lockdown drills if warranted through the Lafayette City Police.

Emergency Preparedness – Fire drills, lockdowns, and tornado drills are each held periodically throughout the year in case a "real life" situation occurs.

First Responders – TCH sent three faculty members to a weeklong "First Responders" course. Emily Lancon, Lauren Delahoussaye, and Joe Heintz are all trained in handling emergencies should they occur on campus.

Lockdown/Strobe Notification – We hope to have this facet of emergency procedures up and running in a few months. If and when TCH goes into a lockdown situation there will be 5 strobe lights activated around the perimeter of the school. A sign will be placed close to the strobe explaining that "...if the light is blinking DO NOT ENTER campus as the school is shut down." This will minimize accidental interference with the lockdown effort.

"ALL I ASK IS AN HONEST ADVANTAGE"

ALINE NORWOOD

DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR

OVERVIEW OF TCH GIVING CAMPAIGNS

Written by Aline Norwood

At Teurlings Catholic High School, we have been blessed with a wealth of enthusiasm from the Chancellor, administration, faculty, staff, students, and parents. Everyone is eager to pitch in from one side or another. Whether it be from the side of the school--to produce quality education and give that extra attention to make our families feel special or whether it be from the side of parents and the community--to spread the good word of their experiences here and to volunteer time and treasure to maintain the momentum, everyone is enthusiastic about TCH.

Our Annual Appeal for the Enhancement of Technology improves the school environment and operations, and encourages giving, especially from those who have a vested interest. A TCH parent can witness a return on their investment within a calendar year from the improvements to the school's technology; new computer labs, mobile computer units, Promethean Boards, new servers, fiber wiring throughout the campus, new computers and laptops in every classroom, etc.

The Capital Campaign is an intensive fundraising effort designed to provide funds for specific needs, i.e. building modernization, plant expansion, endowment growth, or debt reduction. Since 2000, when the TCH Master Plan was developed, we have seen tremendous facility growth: a classroom wing with 13 new classrooms, five reconstructed and enlarged classrooms in the Theology wing, the Terri L. Baudier Athletic Complex and Fieldhouse, the refurbishing of the Blessed Teresa of Calcutta Chapel, the addition of two basketball offices and locker rooms, new flooring in the gym, a new multi-purpose building for athletic training and practices, a faith formation and guidance building, and the dream-come-true Rebel Stadium.

To you whose loyalty and generosity made all of this possible, Teurlings Catholic is deeply indebted. We ask that you continue to support us as we continue to merit your trust and patronage.

Mrs. Aline Norwood, TCH Development Director since 1997, works as a public administrator in specialized areas of the school such as communications and publications, supplemental financing, special events, marketing, endowments, enrollment management, alumni affairs, public relations, and strategic planning.

JOSETTE SURRATT

DIRECTOR OF FAITH FORMATION

Written by Josette Surratt

In January 1895, a few days shy of his 23rd birthday, a brave and determined Dutch priest landed in New Orleans. In October of that year, he was appointed pastor of a region that consisted of 120 miles of coastal lowlands which we now refer to as Cameron Parish. At this most difficult post, Father Teurlings experienced many challenges, including fatigue, discomfort, and ultimately, typhoid malaria. But none of these factors could daunt his indomitable spirit.

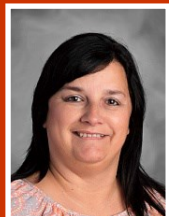

When he was 34 years old, he assumed the duties of Pastor at St. John the Evangelist Parish in Lafayette, La., and his deep interest in Catholic education became evident. In 1923, after establishing what is now Cathedral Carmel School, Father Teurlings turned his sights toward the opening of St. Genevieve's Catholic School in 1945. As this school continued to grow, it became apparent that a high school would be needed; and, in the fall of 1955, Father Teurlings High School was opened. Because of the vision and perseverance of Monsignor William J. Teurlings, future generations have been able to reap the benefits of a Catholic education.

Teurlings Catholic High School has experienced tremendous growth since its creation in 1955, as evidenced by the establishment of the Office of Faith Formation. This office encompasses all aspects of spirituality on the TCH campus, which includes both the Theology curriculum and Campus Ministry. Faith formation relies on instruction from Religious Studies to educate and support the student's faith life. The four years of study are divided into six semesters, each one focusing on different key teachings of the Catholic Church. We have also incorporated the "Come, Lord Jesus" program in all four grade levels.

With a firm foundation based on God's teachings, the students are then able to put their faith into action through the many opportunities offered on our campus. Some of these include: weekly liturgies, Reconciliation, weekly rosary, First Friday Adoration, retreats, revivals and service projects. Our objective is to provide an environment where our students can deepen their faith and then carry that message to others. The desire to serve others is reinforced through freshmen visits to the nursing home, sophomores "Feeding the Hungry" at Thanksgiving, juniors providing Christmas presents through "Child Smile," and seniors making a contribution from their Lenten fundraiser.

The mission that motivated Monsignor William J. Teurlings continues to impact the lives of all who attend Teurlings Catholic High School. He laid the groundwork for us to continue to develop each individual's ability "To Channel His Spirit" for the glory of God.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

Written by Emily Hawkins (TCH 2015)

It is possible to find blue wigs and random outfits in the backpacks of some Teurlings students. It is also possible to find us studying scripts alongside biology notes, to see us carrying suspiciously large boxes or singing whole-heartedly to religious music on Tuesdays. This is not unusual for us in the slightest, but we still get a few odd looks from people who don't quite get it. "What's that for?" they ask, eyebrows arching in interest. "Campus Ministry," we answer, as if it explains everything.

But Campus Ministry is more than its odd collection of skit items and knowledge of Christian music. Teurlings' Campus Ministry is the sum total of its students' efforts to bring themselves and others into a deeper spiritual life by offering the Holy Trinity in a way that is felt and seen more than it is heard.

Retreats are one such example of this mission in action. Senior and junior Campus Ministers put on scheduled retreats throughout the year for sixth through eighth graders at many feeder schools, and for Teurlings' own freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. These annual retreats allow them the opportunity to further their relationship with God and others in their community of faith. Although the retreats begin with praise and worship music, dancing, humorous skits, and "icebreakers" for games, the retreats progressively become more meaningful with testimonies given by some of the ministers and opportunities for prayer, allowing students to reflect on their lives in a loving, God-centered environment.

Campus Ministers also host Rebel Revivals every other month for all students at Teurlings. These "revivals" are essentially miniature-retreats meant to jumpstart one's faith when school and other stressors begin to weigh students down. Though they last only an hour and a half, Rebel Revivals give a much-needed push to the spiritually-hungry. Lindsey Hargrave, a senior Campus Minister, says, "You get to spend time bonding with others who believe the same way as you do...and just be in the presence of the Lord."

Similarly, Rebel Renewals are held for ministers and sacristans by Campus Ministry director, Ramey Badeaux, and Theology teachers Caroline Savoie and John Paoletti. It is a time for the spiritual leaders at school to expand on their own faith in order to better guide those around them.

Campus Ministry Club members visit Holy Family School to celebrate the true meaning of Christmas.

While the club's primary focus is to serve as disciples of Jesus, the entire school is called to serve. "Everyone gets the chance to show what it's like to have a Christ-like spirit and live it," says Julia Daigle, a senior. This ethic is embodied in prayer at the beginning of class, holding doors open for teachers and other students, rosaries in the chapel every Friday, and sharing in Mass every Thursday. But it also is reflected in larger activities that impact people outside of the classroom.

Each grade, as a component of their Theology curriculum, participates in a class service project every year. Freshmen visit the nearby nursing home, while sophomores feed over 400 people in the community on Thanksgiving through the donation and preparation of meals. Juniors purchase, wrap, and deliver gifts to the children of incarcerated individuals as part of the Child Smile Project and also visit the nursing home in the spring. By far, the largest of these projects, however, is the senior Lenten fundraiser which—as the name suggests—takes place over the course of Lent. Seniors raise funds and through collection at Mass, a faculty-student basketball game, and other activities, which culminate in the presentation of a check to the chosen organization at the Passion Play.

Another, more extensive example of the school's ministry will take place during Mardi Gras break of this year. Twenty-five Teurlings students will be travelling to Puerto Rico as part of a mission trip there, offering their services to those in need. This includes anything from helping and interacting with orphans to building or helping clean. This sacrifice of time, resources, and love is a central theme of the Teurlings family—and what it permanently embeds into the hearts of those who walk its halls.

Graduating does not make individuals magically forget the lessons learned at Teurlings. Alumni and current seminarian Kyle White credits the availability of the sacraments on campus and the ability to participate in a club like Campus Ministry as a fundamental reinforcement of his faith while in high school, and later in his life of ministry. It is this atmosphere that allows for students to root themselves more permanently into Christ's teachings, and to provide the foundations to keep them grounded after graduation.

As Father Hampton Davis, Chancellor of Teurlings Catholic, reminded us at the beginning of this year: "We cannot give to others what we have not yet received ourselves." Teurlings Campus Ministry constantly provides the opportunity for spiritual growth as well as an avenue to give to others.

During the Fall, Teurlings Catholic students participated in a number of ministry activities including the Senior Retreat (see above praying at the grave of Charlene Richard), serving meals for our annual "Feed the Hungry" service project, and delivering gifts for the Child Smile Project in December.

Rebel Revue

Written by: Dawn Aucoin (TCH '88)

And 5,6,7,8... For 28 years, the Rebel Revue Dance Team has been entertaining crowds, performing superior routines, and competing nationally. This year is one for the record books. Four out of the 17 members are second-generation Rebel Revue dancers. Their mothers practiced in the main breezeway, danced at Clark Field, and traveled to Orlando, Florida for national competitions. Although times have changed, much of the rooted traditions of the squad have stayed the same. The dancers and their mothers compared experiences on the squad and reflected on past and present memories.

Describe practices for the Squad.

Then: We always practiced in the main breezeway enduring the cold, rain, and distractions from students catching the bus. The Captains/Co-captains were in charge and ran the practices.

Now: We practice in our new multipurpose building, cafeteria, or at a studio off campus. The practices are led by the Coach or Assistant Coach.

Compare the routines of today to those from the past.

Then: The squad performed pom, high kick, and themed dances. Our routines were pretty easy compared to today's routines. The most difficult elements in the dances were double turns and jump splits. We had no hip hop at all.

Now: Our routines include difficult tricks, turns, and leaps. We attend extra technique classes, Pilates, and tumbling to have routines that are nationally competitive in jazz, hip hop and pom divisions.

What is/was the most enjoyable part of being on the team?

Then: The comradery we shared, staying up all night at Thursday night sleepouts (sleeping all day Friday-sorry teachers), "Crazy Day" at camp, just being a "family".

Now: Dancing at the football games, being together daily, and the sisterhood bond we share within the team.

How has the squad changed?

Then: Back then, we danced strictly for fun not competitively. You had to be on the Rebellette Pep Squad before you could try out.

Now: We are competitive like the other sports on our campus and are ranked among the top 10 teams in the nation. A dancer needs extensive training before trying out for the squad.

What traditions have stayed the same?

We still attend summer camp, State Competition, and, of course, the National Dance Team Championship in Disney World. We also continue the "Big Sis - Lil Sis" tradition. The duties of the Captain/Co-captain have remained the same. A few new traditions have begun with our own Rebel Stadium including dancing on the sidelines and dancing with the Drum Line in the stands. But most importantly, a tradition of praying before every practice has confirmed why we chose Teurlings Catholic High School for our daughters.

Sister Edith Turpin Class of 1960

Written by Sister Edith Turpin

I love Teurlings and I cherish the years I was at school there. I had wonderful teachers and classmates. I was in the second graduating class with 7 girls and 14 boys.

I was blessed to have met Msgr. Teurlings before his death. St. Genevieve and Teurlings students gathered in front of his home to present him with a little donation. It was my joy to do this for the group. Shortly after his death the Parish put out some of his "treasures" for sale or auction (I am not sure). My mother picked up a copy of St. Therese's first edition of her autobiography in French for me.

It was that book that influenced my choice and decision for Carmel. I felt that St. Therese, through her simple "little way" had the answer for true happiness and holiness. Her life had meaning and her focus was totally on God.

Even though I did pretty well at Teurlings (Student Council president, Homecoming Queen, a very nice and handsome boyfriend etc.. etc...) I still felt very empty inside and I felt my life was going the wrong way until I chose Carmel to pray for the world, the Church and those I love so dearly.

My journey in Carmel has been full of peace, joy and true meaning for me. This doesn't mean that I did not have many sacrifices to make and some sufferings as well. It's been a journey with Jesus, the One I love and hope to be with for Eternity.

I am presently Prioress of my little community in Covington, La. I entered Carmel in Lafayette in 1960 and volunteered to help the New Orleans Carmel in 1992. We moved from New Orleans to Covington in 1995 - 20 years ago!

Louisiana Association for Justice
Executive Director Constance A. "Connie" Koury

Constance A. "Connie" Koury began a private practice in Lafayette in 1980, working in her uncle's law firm for two years before becoming a sole practitioner. During the 12 years of her general civil litigation practice, which had an emphasis on personal injury cases, she was named Outstanding Businesswoman of Lafayette and served on numerous professional and civic boards, including an appointment to the mayor's Vision Lafayette health-care committee.

In 1992, Koury was nominated as and chosen to serve as special counsel to the governor, and in 1994 she became the state's first female executive counsel to the governor. While in those capacities, she coordinated the governor's legislative packages, advised the governor and state agencies on legal matters and served on various boards and commissions, including the State Bond Commission. The governor assigned her to represent the Board of Regents and the state during the United States vs. Louisiana litigation involving higher education. She became the chief negotiator for the state parties in the litigation, which resulted in a 1994 settlement of the by then decades-old desegregation litigation. (In 2006, three years after becoming general counsel to the Board of Regents, the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana determined that the state had fully complied with the terms of the settlement and dismissed the lawsuit.

Koury returned to private practice in 1996 and in 1997 she was appointed the first female first assistant attorney general for the state of Louisiana. Her duties included supervising the operations of an office of over 500 employees (188 of whom were attorneys), supervising the issuance of legal opinions and handling the attorney general's legislative activities. In 1999, she was inducted into the Louisiana Hall of Fame for Women in Government. As first assistant she again served as the state's chief negotiator in complicated litigation requiring coordination of state agencies and intense negotiations with the United States Department of Justice. Settlements were reached in 1999 and 2000, which led to juvenile justice reform of the state's juvenile detention centers and the ultimate dismissal of the litigation.

Koury returned to private practice in 2000 until December 2003, when she became general counsel to the Louisiana Board of Regents. In addition to advising and representing the board and its staff on legal issues, she led the agency's legislative efforts, participated in policy decisions and co-advised the Council of Student Body Presidents.

She joined Louisiana Association for Justice as its Executive Director in 2011.

Koury earned a baccalaureate degree from the College of Education at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette in 1975. She taught high school and coached debate at Teurlings Catholic High School in Lafayette for two years and was named Louisiana's Outstanding Debate Coach for 1977 before attending Louisiana State University Law Center and earning a juris doctorate degree in 1980.

You have given a path we can follow
Loving all, loving God.

You have guided our goals and our morals
Needing one, needing all.

Teurlings' spirit will live forever
Its love will bring us life.

We needed something to love and guide us
Bring us faith, bring us joy.

You are that something to love and guide us
Something safe, something sure.

You are always right behind us

Oh, our memories will live forever
And our gains will all shine through.

You are that something to always guide us
Turn around! You'll be there.

Using Life Insurance as a Charitable Gift

If you are thinking about making a charitable donation to TCH, you may want to consider doing so through a life insurance policy. Giving a life insurance policy as a charitable gift can benefit both the recipient and the donor in several ways. If the donor gives a policy to the school (i.e. the donor makes the school the policy owner but still pays the policy's premiums), then the school will both receive the death benefit and be able to use any cash that the policy accumulates as needed. The donor will also receive a charitable income tax deduction for the amount of premium paid each year. If the donor retains ownership of the policy but names the school as the policy's beneficiary, then the donor's estate will receive an estate tax charitable deduction after he or she passes away. This deduction will reflect the size of the policy's death benefit. If the donor transfers an existing policy to the school, then the donor receives an income tax deduction for the year of the gift equal to the lesser of his/her basis in the policy or the policy's value. In all cases, the school will receive proceeds from a gifted policy income-tax free. Perhaps the most significant benefit of using a life insurance policy to give back to TCH is that doing so allows donors to make a much larger gift than they could with any other type of asset. This is because life insurance allows donors to leverage large sums of money that the school will receive income-tax free for pennies on the dollar.

Annual Appeal for the Enhancement of Technology

The goal of an annual fund is to generate dollars to enhance the environment of learning at Teurlings Catholic. It is more than a dollar-raising campaign. It is designed to involve as many donors as possible, at whatever levels of giving they can participate, in a concerted educational focus. Since 1999, the appeal has enabled Teurlings Catholic to excel in the global community by providing our students with state-of-the-art vehicles of technology.

TCHS Foundation

The purpose of the foundation is to assure the longevity of Catholic education at Teurlings Catholic High School by investing in an endowment trust fund. An endowment consists of funds that have been set aside by a school to produce income; only the interest earned is made available for the needs of Teurlings Catholic. Unrestricted memorial gifts and proceeds from the Rebel Open are designated for the foundation.

Capital Campaign

Is an intensive fundraising effort designed to provide funds for specific needs, i.e. building modernization, plant expansion, or debt reduction, within a specified period of time. Through recent years, TCH has witnessed the additions of new classrooms, an athletic field house, a multipurpose building, a Faith Formation/Guidance building, and a stadium for football, track, and soccer. The TCH master plan projects phases of other future improvements including more classrooms, a roof to cover the entire courtyard, paving the student parking lot, and a second gymnasium.

2014 Outstanding Teacher

KYLE BOURQUE

"Building a student's character to carry on the message of Christ," is the most important meaning of Catholic school excellence to Mr. Kyle Bourque, TCH Teacher of the Year. "...it is not only offering facts to students but also giving them a well-rounded education."

Sophomore Claire Champagne thinks Mr. Bourque is charismatic. "He understands his students. He takes very difficult information and converts it into various concepts all of us can understand."

Teurlings Catholic is not the first school to have chosen Kyle Bourque as Teacher of the Year. Prior to TCH, he was honored at Vermilion Catholic in Abbeville, LA.

Outstanding Supporters

ADAM & MELANIE CHAMPAGNE

"It is with grateful hearts that we have chosen to send our daughters to Teurlings Catholic High," declare Adam and Melanie Champagne. "The spiritual and academic preparation delivered by qualified and dedicated teachers and staff members will have long lasting impacts as Annie and Claire become productive and compassionate adults."

Adam and Mel are always on the go with their children's involvement in school and extracurricular activities such as the school play, speech and debate, quiz bowl, volleyball, basketball, Rebels for Life, and music ministry. In addition to helping with student activity involvement, they are also avid volunteers at Teurlings Catholic on the Advisory Council, RABC, Hospitality, Adoration, Grandparents' Day, and Open House committees. They give much of their time, talents, and treasure in support of programs such as the Annual Appeal for the Enhancement of Technology and Tuition Assistance Programs. Father and daughter also teamed up on Thanksgiving Day to help serve meals for the TCH Feeds the Hungry project. The TCH Family is very grateful to the Champagnes.

Memorial & Honorary Awards

Roddy Richard Memorial Award (est. 1999)

This fund was established in Roddy Richard's name to perpetuate his memory in a way that is personal and meaningful to his family, his friends, and his Alma Mater. Interest generated by the fund will financially assist a high school student with tuition and fees to attend Teurlings Catholic High School. The student selected each year is one who best exemplifies the traits that made Roddy (TCH '83) special—one who is always a cheerful example to other students, displays the qualities of leadership, serves and participates at his church parish, and has maintained a strong academic grade point average.

Nick Weber Memorial Award (est. 2002)

This fund was lovingly established in Nick's name by his parents Tessie and Keith Weber, his family, his classmates of TCH 2001, and his many friends to carry on his memory. Interest generated by the fund will financially assist a high school student with tuition and/or fees to attend Teurlings Catholic High School. The student selected each year is one who best exemplifies the traits of Nick—always willing to help others, is courteous and honest, participates in a variety of school activities, demonstrates a deep appreciation for the closeness of family and friends, and genuinely loves Teurlings Catholic High School.

Terri L. Baudier Memorial (est. 2009)

Mr. Bruce Baudier, daughter Brie, family members, and friends of former TCH Assistant Principal Terri Louque Baudier (TCH 1996 – 2008) have established the Terri L. Baudier Memorial Award to perpetuate her memory and champion the causes she believed in. Mrs. Baudier loved TCH and every student that walked through its "main breezeway." She believed the good in every student was only a conversation away. She encouraged the underdog and rallied behind their efforts. Mrs. Baudier was a hard worker and admired those who willingly took on extra responsibilities and worked for the betterment of the school and its student body. Fairness and compassion are two qualities that allowed Mrs. Baudier to be a model for Catholic education and these qualities serve as a guide for the selection of our honoree.

Amie Devillier Delahoussaye Award (est. 2009)

A cash award established by C & R Fabrication, Inc. in recognition of the accomplishments of a Teurlings Catholic softball graduate, based on the following qualifying standards: The TCH senior who has been a Lady Rebel varsity softball player for a minimum of 2 years; The TCH student who has been accepted and is in the process of enrollment within a college or university for the fall semester immediately following graduation from Teurlings Catholic; The TCH student who has earned a G.P.A. of 3.4 or higher.

Contributions are earmarked for an award to recognize her love and support of her Alma Mater.

Brandon Latiolais Award (est. 2000)

Dr. and Mrs. Terry Latiolais have established this award in memory of their son Brandon (TCH '94) who left a remarkable impression on his Alma Mater and on all who knew him. It will serve to maintain Brandon's persona at TCH while allowing future generations to know about him as well. The scholarship is a cash award in recognition of the academic accomplishments of a Teurlings graduating student, based upon that student's ACT scores and future educational plans.

Nick Miller

Nick Miller, TCH Outstanding Student, was also selected Outstanding Student of the Diocese
"Throughout my life, I have grown and been shaped by many different influences. My family inspires me daily to work hard to achieve my goals. Sports teach me the values of mental toughness and determination as well as training my body to increase self-esteem. Most importantly, God is influencing my life day in and day out, calling me to do good for others and to use my talents for a good cause. God calls all of us to use the talents He gave us for the greater good, which we are all capable of if we believe in ourselves and work to achieve our goals."

While maintaining a 4.0 GPA, Nick has shown skills of leadership as a Eucharistic Minister, altar server, and member of the Beta Quiz Bowl Team.
